Ethicist Larry Rasmussen has written that the biggest story of the twentieth century was the fundamental change in the relationship of the human world to the rest of the earth: never before have human technology and human numbers been powerful enough to alter and destroy planetary life systems. Rasmussen then quotes Daniel Maguire to pose a challenge: "If current trends continue, we will not. And that is qualitatively and epochally true. If religion does not speak to [this], it is an obsolete distraction."

This course reflects a worldwide movement -- variously called the “greening of religion”, ecotheology, ecospirituality, or simply religion and ecology – whose practitioners seek to respond to Rasmussen’s observation and Maguire’s challenge. Together we will explore a diversity of sources and traditions, keeping in mind the powerful role religion can play in shaping everyday habits and in addressing moral issues regarding the earth and our environments. We will focus on three primary religious traditions: North American Native American religions and spirituality, Christianity, and Buddhism, though contributions from other religious traditions will also be considered.

Grading Policy

Note Re Papers: Papers are due in class on or before the date listed in the syllabus. Unless you have made a prior agreement with me, I will take off one grade level (A becomes A-) for each class day an assignment is late. Papers with an undue number of errors of punctuation, spelling, or grammar will be marked down and may be returned ungraded for correction. Written work will be evaluated in terms of your depth of critical analysis, thoughtfulness of reflection, clarity of writing, and ability to address issues raised in the text and in class on the topic at hand. Grades given reflect the following criteria of judgment:

F: Failure to meet minimum requirements
D: Unsatisfactory, but some effort to meet minimum requirements
C: Satisfactory; meets minimum requirements of assignment but not much more
B: Good to Very Good: thoughtful reflection, good analysis, clear writing style
A: Excellent depth of critical analysis, thoughtfulness of reflection, and writing style; demonstrate creativity and mature analytical skills in going beyond the primary requirements of the assignment

Attendance: Regular attendance and participation in the class is expected. More than three (3) absences will result in losing any benefit of the doubt on your final grade. More than five (5) absences will result in one grade reduction. More than seven (7) absences will result in a failing course grade. Late arrivals in class will count as an absence. (Note: If you have a valid reason for missing several classes, such as illness or other conflicting commitments, you still must speak with the instructor).

Academic Dishonesty and Plagiarism: All work submitted is expected to be the student's own. Any acts of plagiarism or academic dishonesty will result in automatic failure of the course, and may result in further academic punishment. If you have any doubts about definitions of plagiarism or academic dishonesty, please review the relevant sections of the University Catalog.

DESCRIPTION OF ASSIGNMENTS

1. Self-Assessment essay. Instructions will be handed out in class. Due Feb 6.

2. Thomas Berry response essay: In The Dream of the Earth, Thomas Berry writes, “It’s all a question of story. We are in trouble just now because we do not have a good story. We are in between stories. The old story, the account of how the world came to be and how we fit into it, is no longer effective. Yet we have not learned the new story.” (p. 123) Berry goes on to propose that the “new scientific story” of the origins of our evolving universe can provide the basis of a new cosmology to provide orientation and meaning to the human story as we move into the Ecozoic era. In this 6-8 page essay, engage and assess Berry’s arguments, as he develops them in our readings from The Dream of the Earth and Evening Thoughts. What do you see as the strengths and weaknesses of Berry’s proposal, and the arguments he gives to support it? What parts of his writings do you find most interesting, provocative, problematic or promising, and why? What is our overall assessment of his project and proposal that the new cosmology of the universe story now becomes the universal cosmology for the human race? Due in class February 20.

3. Black Elk/Job response essay: Examine Black Elk Speaks and The Book of Job from the Hebrew Bible – and write a 6-8 page critical comparison and response. Start by giving a clear exposition of the main views of nature and the sacred found in each text. Then compare and contrast them, noting where they are similar, where different, and why. What is the underlying religious cosmology of each text, and how does it shape the text’s view of the world and humanity’s relationship to nature? Consider such questions as: How would you compare their respective views of nature, and nature’s relationship to both the sacred (God/gods) and to humanity? What are the central insights you gain from each text about humanity’s relationship to nature / the earth? What insights, if any, do you think these texts have for understanding our human relationship to nature / the environment today? Do they have any relevance for contemporary environmental ethics? Why or why not? (Note: Your essay must contain specific references to and relevant quotes from the texts to support your exposition and argument). Due in Class April 5.
4. Facilitation of Class Discussion: Each student will have the opportunity to work in a small group to facilitate class discussion of one set of readings from the sections of the class focusing on Native Americans and Environmental Justice (March 6 & 8), Christianity and Climate Change (April 5), Ecofeminism and Animals (April 10), or Buddhist perspectives on Consumption (April 26 & May 1). The class should be organized as a discussion of the texts, not a presentation. Creativity of format is encouraged!

5. Short Response Papers to the Readings: Following the class facilitation, each student facilitator will write a short, 4-5 page response paper to the readings discussed in that class. The first part of the paper should summarize the main points or arguments in the readings, and the second part should be the student’s thoughtful response to the issues raised. Due in class one week after the class facilitation.

6. Religious Traditions Analysis: Instructions will be handed out in class on Feb 1. Preliminary proposals and project outlines are due in class on Mar 6. The project itself is due during the final exam period Thursday, May 10 3:20-5:20 pm where each student will have the opportunity to give a brief synopsis of the project.

7. Opening Prayer, Reading or Meditation: We will begin each class period with a couple minutes of silent meditation, followed by a short opening prayer, reading, or meditation (2-5 min.) that is related to the topic or religious tradition that day. Each student will have the opportunity to sign up and facilitate this opening exercise for one class. This is a non-graded assignment that I hope each of us will engage in and enjoy!

Important University Policies, Dates and Deadlines: Please check Cyberbear at: http://www.umt.edu/registrar/calendar.php

Credit/No Credit Grade option: A minimum grade average of C- (70) is required for a CR grade in the CR/NC Grade option.

Incomplete Grade: Please see the criteria that must be met for an Incomplete in the University Catalog. No exceptions will be made for these criteria.
